The image shows the Allianz @ Arena stadium, a large, modern sports arena with a distinctive, textured, silver, ribbed exterior. The stadium is the central focus, with its name 'Allianz @ Arena' prominently displayed in blue, three-dimensional lettering on the upper part of the facade. The '@' symbol is replaced by the Allianz logo, which consists of three vertical bars of varying heights inside a circle. In the foreground, a paved plaza is visible, with a few people walking and a metal crowd control barrier. The sky is overcast with grey clouds.

A modern, three-story building with a white, textured facade. The facade features a grid of 15 square windows arranged in three rows and five columns. The building is situated in a town square, with a man walking on the sidewalk in front of it. To the left is a dark wooden building, and to the right is a building under renovation with scaffolding and a church tower in the background.

A dark wooden building with a gabled roof, located to the left of the white building. It has a rustic, log-cabin appearance.

A building under renovation, located to the right of the white building. It is covered in scaffolding and has a sign that reads "Luzi Gestalt". A church tower with a dark dome is visible in the background.

A dark-colored car parked on the street to the left of the white building. A blue parking sign with a white 'P' is visible on the wall behind it.

A man walking on the sidewalk in front of the white building. He is wearing a dark shirt and jeans.

A wooden planter box filled with flowers, located on the sidewalk to the right of the white building.
